What this means for you

The problems on the marked pages are enough to stop this offer. Do not book a visa appointment with this paper. A recorded refusal makes the next visa to that country harder.

What to do now

- Do not pay the agent any more money.
- Do not file this paper with the embassy. Once a refusal is written down, later applications to that country are looked at more strictly.
- Keep the chat, the receipt, and this report.

Submitting a false document to an embassy can lead to a visa refusal that is recorded, making future visas to that country harder.

OVERALL ASSESSMENT

Our risk assessment

Reject this letter now. Do not file it, and do not pay the visa fee or the flight it asks for. The pages use the name of a real United States company, and then ask you for money.

The employer number is a stock ISIN, not the company's employer identification number. The letterhead is a collage of pictures. The headquarters telephone is a Michigan number under a Minneapolis address. The company history and the product lists are copied from a public page.

The job title and the pay figures were added onto a template. The letter says the employer can issue a work permit, which it cannot, and the dates do not leave time for a visa. The computer clock on the file is UTC+05:00, which is not the clock in Minneapolis.

SENIOR AUDITOR

The Senior Auditor's review

I reviewed every marked page. The stock code US3703341046 is printed where an employer identification number belongs. The employer's number is 41-0274440. The letterhead is assembled from separate pictures. The telephone 1-906-356-3148 uses a Michigan area code, while the address says Minneapolis.

The history, including the words about 2014, and the brand lists match a public encyclopedia page. Supervisor does not match the type around it, and the pay figures, including $72,800, do not sit on the line with the sentence.

The letter then asks you to pay a visa fee and to buy a flight, and it says the company will secure a residence and a work permit. Only the United States government can issue those. The computer clock is UTC+05:00, the clock used in Pakistan and the Maldives. The approval block names an external marketing strategist as the approval officer. That name is left out of this sample.

WELCOME TO GENERAL MILLS

Introduction

4 General Mills, Inc., is an American multinational manufacturer and marketer of branded consumer foods sold through retail stores. It is headquartered in Golden Valley, Minnesota, a suburb of Minneapolis. The company markets many well-known North American brands, including Gold Medal flour, Annie's Homegrown, Lärabar, Cascadian Farm, Betty Crocker, Yoplait, Nature Valley, Totino's, Pillsbury, Old El Paso, Häagen-Dazs, Cheerios, Chex, Lucky Charms, Trix, Cocoa Puffs and Count Chocula and the other monster cereals.

Founding

General Mills itself was created in June 1928 when Washburn-Crosby President James Ford Bell merged Washburn-Crosby with three other mills. In 1928, General Mills acquired the Wichita Mill and Elevator Company of the industrialist Frank Kell of Wichita Falls, Texas. With the sale, Kell acquired cash plus stock in the corporation. The newly merged company paid a dividend in 1928, and has continued the dividend uninterrupted since then–one of only a few companies to pay a dividend every year since then.

PART 1

On your offer

Colours: Blue perfect · Green good · Yellow problem · Red risk

Definitive forgery: reject immediately

CRITICAL

What this means for you

Do not file this letter and do not pay the visa fee or the flight it asks for.

What to do

Ask the employer to confirm the monthly pay, the currency, and who pays it, in writing from their own company email.

A stock ISIN is printed as the employer number

CRITICAL

What this means for you

The employer number on the letter is a stock ISIN, not a United States employer identification number. This is from A United States employer identification number is issued for tax. A stock ISIN identifies shares.

What to do

Ask the employer to confirm this point in writing, from their own company email, before you pay or book travel.

The letterhead is a collage of pictures

CRITICAL

What this means for you

The letterhead is a patchwork of pictures, not one printed design from the employer.

What to do

Ask the employer for the original letter, sent straight from their own office email, and compare it with this one.

The headquarters telephone is a Michigan number

HIGH

What this means for you

The headquarters telephone uses a Michigan area code while the address is in Minneapolis.

The company history is copied from a public page

The letter demands illegal visa and flight fees

CRITICAL

What this means for you

You are asked to pay the visa fee and the flight. A United States employer cannot charge a worker those fees. This is from A United States employer cannot charge a worker a fee to take the job, including a visa fee or a flight.

The letter claims the employer can issue the permit

CRITICAL

What this means for you

An employer cannot issue a visa or a work permit. Only the United States government can. This is from Only the United States government can issue a visa or a work permit. An employer cannot.

What to do

Ask for the work-permit filing number before anyone treats this letter as permission to travel.

The computer clock is set to Pakistan or the Maldives

HIGH

What this means for you

The computer clock on the file is UTC+05:00, which does not match a Minneapolis office.

The dates leave no time for a visa

CRITICAL

What this means for you

The letter puts the application and the start a few weeks apart. A United States work visa cannot be finished in that time.

What to do

Ask the employer to confirm the joining date in writing before you book travel.

The registration number is not a government number

HIGH

What this means for you

USA-H1B-2026 is printed as an employee registration number. The United States government does not issue a worker that number.

What to do

Ask the employer for their company registration number, then look it up on the official company register yourself.

The approval block names an outside strategist

HIGH

What this means for you

The approval block names an external marketing strategist as the approval officer. The name is not shown in this sample. That person is not the employer's hiring officer.

The company named on the letter is a real company

CLEAR

What this means for you

The company named here exists. This letter is still not one of its offers.

PART 2

What the law requires

The permit this letter is not

LEGAL RULE

A job-offer letter is not a residence permit and it is not a work permit. The authority of the country named on the letter has to accept the employer and the pay before anyone can file for you.

If you file this letter and the embassy refuses it, that refusal stays on your record and the next application is harder. Do not pay an agent to push the letter through.

Hiring route

Employer
No separate employer warning is on this file.

Work permit
The permit from the labour authority.

Visa
The consulate comes after the permit.

What we checked

3 raised a problem. Counts are from this case only.

✗ Company and register check: Raised a problem.

✗ Pay and hiring route: Raised a problem.

✗ What created the file: Raised a problem.

What we could not check

Every check that was started on this case also finished.

What to do about the money

- Say this to the agent: Please return my money. This offer did not clear. I will not pay any more.
- A recorded visa refusal makes the next visa to that country harder, so do not file this paper to test it.
- If the money is already gone, call 1930 or file at https://cybercrime.gov.in.
- Ask the company to write to you from its own office before you pay anyone.

SAMPLE

Full technical evidence is included in your private report.

The forensic checks and the reasons behind each finding are shared only with the person who ordered the check.

PART 5

A page for your family

Sample Applicant, read this page with your family. It explains the United States offer letter, which claims to be a job offer.

Our result

Our result is that this offer should not be paid for and should not be filed.

DO NOT PAY

The points that matter most

- Definitive forgery: reject immediately.
- A stock ISIN is printed as the employer number.
- The letterhead is a collage of pictures.
- The headquarters telephone is a Michigan number.
- The company history is copied from a public page.
- The job title was typed into a blank line.

How these approaches usually work

Someone shows a letter that looks official, then asks the family for Rs 5-10 lakh for a visa, a medical, a seat, or tickets.

They add a deadline and say the seat disappears if the money is not sent today. A genuine employer does not collect that fee from you.

Warning signs

- A deadline of tonight, or a seat that vanishes overnight.
- Money into a personal bank account, or money before the employer has written to you.
- No street address, and no email on the company's own domain.
- An offer to repair the file, add a stamp, or place the company on a register once you pay.

Do this

- Store the messages and the transfer slip with this report.
- Ask the employer to write from their own company email.

Do not do this

- Send more money to hold a seat.
- Book an embassy appointment on this paper while these points stand.

Contact Testiy before you pay anyone or deal with any agency.

If money has already moved, keep the receipt and do not send more. The English pages above are the full report, and this page is the one to read together.
